the Law Member and the other members of the Select Committee did their work. As I said yesterday we had many prolonged sittings. We had to adjudicate upon conflicting principles without ignoring the claims of law, economics, politics, and every subject which came under the purview of this Bill. This Bill will emerge from this House in a form which I trust will meet with the approval of the world. As an equitable compromise between conflicting claims of creditors and debtors for the good of the country this measure will be approved by all. The Government has been anxious to push it through by convening emergent sessions of the Assembly. In this particular case the promptitude of Government is commendable. I would appeal to the House to pass this Bill.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil) : Sir, I must at the out set express my sincere gratitude to the honourable members for their kind words in regard to me. It is not necessary for me to deal at length with the details of the Bill. I see that debtors as well as creditors are dissatisfied with this Bill. If both of them are dissatisfied, Government, I believe, must be right in getting this Bill passed. Some members were opposed to Clause 34 of the Bill and they went to the extent of saying that the Bill may be thrown out if Clause 34 is to remain. If my view is right, this Bill will help the poor man, the poor toiler who is the backbone of the country. And it is he that should be helped by this House. I hope the House will vote in favour of my motion.

The motion was put to vote and carried.

THE TRAVANCORE BOILERS BILL.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil) : Sir, the Travancore Boilers Bill has passed the consideration stage and the motion for passing the Bill has not yet been passed. When I made the motion on the last occasion there was certain objection in regard to the short title of the Bill. I wish to disarm that opposition by bringing a motion myself for amending the short title. In view to that, I beg to move the following amendment:

"In Clause 1, sub-clause (i), for the figure '1110' substitute the figure '1112'".

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction) : I second it.

The motion was put to vote and carried.

MR. KAYALAM PARAMESVARAN PILLAI (Additional Head Sirkar Vakil) : I beg to move that the Bill as amended be passed into law.

MR. C. V. CHANDRASEKHARAN (Ag. Director of Public Instruction) : I second it.

The motion was put to vote and carried.
